ELLA BANCROFT

Ella Noah Bancroft is an Australian born Artist, storyteller, teacher, director and mentor. Her Indigenous heritage has played a key role in her story. Her ancestral links have given her a platform for expression within the arts, a different perspective on life and a capacity to teach all races, ages and sexes.

She is passionate about re-wilding the world and the feminine force. Traveller and free spirit, Ella is mostly always on the move or looking to be, with a keen desire to promote change around her and within herself.

Ella writes from her direct experiences with the world around her, she writes in many forms and writes to inspire, evoke thought and create debate within the brains of her audience.
